BUREAUCRACY REMAINS

Kaiser's Attitude Toward Labor and Capital Still Prevails; Thieving Prevalent, He Reports.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Feb. 21.—The German government is the same bureaucratic regime of the Kaiser's day with the same attitude toward labor and capital and does not represent the forces which caused the revolution, says Dr. Alonzo Taylor, food specialist who has just returned from Germany. Count Von Bernstorff is in charge of American affairs and the foreign office and the bureaucrats of the old school are in evidence everywhere. He added, "The Germans are becoming Russified. They are afraid to put trusted men into the service." German propagandists, Dr. Taylor found, favor the league of nations and are filling the newspapers with articles saying that President Wilson's doctrine should be considered as having become effective on the day the armistice was signed and been interpreted as leaving Alsace-Lorraine in German hands. Predicts Political Upheaval.
The German army has apparently been disorganized and demobilized for the most part, Dr. Taylor says, but he believes it will be possible for a well organized bureaucracy to restore militarism if it is deemed desirable. Many Germans believe they will recover their battlefields and merchant fleet and do not expect to give up any territory, and in Dr. Taylor's opinion, a grave political upheaval is probable with the signing of the treaty of peace.

The present lull is regarded as unnatural by Dr. Taylor, who says it was possibly created by the payment of indemnities to Germany and by suspending action on all questions vital to the future of the nation. Thieving is prevalent.
Thieving is common and general public morale is low, Dr. Taylor remarks. He says the food situation is critical and the nation cannot live until next harvest unless supplied by outside powers. The death rate has increased, especially among children between 5 and 15 years of age. Lack of fuel and raw materials has closed virtually all industries. The coal mines are hampered because they have little coal. Labor conditions are so bad at the coal mines that there is little prospect of an increase in the fuel output.

BORAH CONTRADICTS TAFT IN STAND ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Borah of Idaho, republican member of the foreign relations committee, delivered in the senate today his promised attack on the proposed league of nations and referred to it as the most radical departure from our policies that we have ever considered. Statements made by former President Taft in support of the league of nations did not contravene with Washington's doctrine against engaging in entangling alliances with foreign nations or with the Monroe doctrine were declared by Senator Borah to be "to the utmost degree misleading." Senator Borah declared that before any action was taken it should be referred to a vote of the people.

"I believe," he said, "that this proposed program to be made operative and effective under the constitution unless it necessary to change our constitution."

Senator Borah said he would have deferred his remarks until later, had not been for an article in the New York Times in which Mr. Taft asserted that the program did not destroy the doctrine of Washington or the Monroe doctrine.

"Taft's suggestion that opponents of the league were 'reactionary,' Senator Borah declared that the word 'is not unfamiliar in the extraordinary history of the league of nations to the people believe that Europe now and in the future will be free of selfishness, of ambition, of caprice and humor. He asked why quit our ground and stand on foreign soil? and yet in the very beginning of this league of nations constitution we find the executive council would be dominated by Europeans, one Asiatic and one American."

"Why should we intervene our destiny with European destiny? Yet, this constitution gives the majority every single instance where action may arise, to European power."

ELISER, PREMIER OF BAVARIA KILLED

London, Feb. 21.—Kurt Eliser, the premier of Bavaria, was shot and killed this morning, according to a Munich dispatch by Lieut. Col. Arco Valley. The count was wounded severely by a guard and is reported to be dying.
Kurt Eliser, who seized the reins of government in Bavaria after the deposition of the royal family, was a socialist of the more radical type and recent reports from Munich have been that he was heading a Spartacist movement against the moderate and conservative Bavarian government.
Eliser, a Jew, was arrested last April by the Bavarian government and was reported to have committed suicide in prison.
Eliser always had been opposed to the German majority socialists and had repeatedly attacked President Wilson and his colleagues. Late in November he severed relations with the Berlin government.
At the Bern conference he attacked the German majority socialists and declared himself strongly against Bolshevism.

A Well Known and a New Hostess Help Capital Society to Entertain Again

Mme. Cremer and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh.

After a year of intense war work Washington society is again entertaining. Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, wife of a Senator from Montana, is one of the capital's favorite hostesses. She was conspicuous for her very active war activities during the past year, having turned over the entire first floor of her home to Belgian relief workers. She even had electric sewing and knitting machines installed. Mme. Cremer, wife of Jonkheer J. T. Cremer, minister from the Netherlands to the United States, has proved a charming addition to the diplomatic circle of hostesses.

HOUSING TOTAL NOW $62,400; WORK OF COMMITTEES PRAISED

"Tomorrow will be victory day in the Janesville housing campaign," said William McVicar, chairman of the housing committee this morning. "We are going to get the necessary $100,000. Every committee member is determined on that." Reports at the close of yesterday's campaign brought the total up to $62,400. The 12 committees which have raised this amount started their work at the close of yesterday's campaign and will continue until night. Most of the teams will work all day Saturday as well as on a new set of prospects yet to be secured today.
The unselfish devotion of business and professional men who can visualize what is about to take place in Janesville, deserves the highest praise, officials of the campaign said today. This campaign is the first of its kind in Janesville, and is predicted a success.
W. C. Durant, who will be here Monday, will be informed of the work being done by citizens.
Arrangements are already being made to hold a stockholders' meeting before the end of the month. It is probable that notice of the meeting which must be published ten days in advance, will be given out early in the week.
Stock holders will elect a board of directors and officers immediately, so that the actual building of homes will commence as soon as weather is favorable.

BILL OF GERMANY HINGES ON CLAIM OF COST OF WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Feb. 21.—While the peace conference leaders have been awaiting the outcome of Premier Clemenceau's inquiry to determine the program for the immediate future, the question of fixing the huge amount of money the enemy is to pay for reparation is taking such form that it may have to be referred to the main council and to the heads of the various governments.
This issue turns principally on whether the cost to the various countries in conducting the war should be included in the claim, in addition to reparation for damages. It is maintained by those urging the negative view that the communication sent to President Wilson by the allies when they first accepted the German proposal for an armistice, declared specifically only for reparation and made no mention of the cost of the war. The latter however, now has become one of the chief claims.
In outlining the difficulties met by the commission in determining the appropriate losses of any one belligerent, Capt. Andre Tardieu of the French delegates said that France alone would present a bill for 450,000 houses which have been destroyed. This does not include factories he added.
M. Tardieu said the allies had agreed that Germany must pay to the limit of her capacity.

NORTHERN RUSSIANS AGREE TO MEETING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Feb. 21.—Nicholas Tschalkovsky, president of the Northern Russian government at Archangel, who has been in Paris for several days, has consented to the participation of his government in the proposed meeting of Russian factions on the Princes Islands.

William Allen White and George D. Herron, the American representatives to the Princes Islands conference, and members of the American peace delegation have been holding many conferences with representatives in Paris of the various Russian governments.
Another invitation to the conference probably will be issued formally by the allied and associated powers within a few days for a meeting about March 15.

Pupils Taken on Travel Lecture Through West

Miss Grace Mount gave an illustration to the pupils of the continuation school at the public library. The girls and boys started from Janesville, traveled west, through the Canadian Rockies, stopping at Lake Louise, Banff, and other places, then on west through the state of Washington, down to California, and then through the wonderland of Colorado. Life in Montana, and the customs of some of the western Indians were described. To make the talk more vivid, it was illustrated with not only pictures but also with Indian trophies. These were loaned by Miss Mount, Dr. Buckmaster and Judge Fife.

Clemenceau Pronounced Out of Danger; Receives Colleagues of Supreme Council.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Feb. 21.—Police working on the Cottin case have searched the houses of some thirty members of the communist federation. Enormous masses of papers, tracts, circulars and pamphlets were confiscated. It is asserted that the papers seized at the office of the Journal Liberte established the fact that a regular Bolshevik organization is in existence in Paris and that it has important ramifications. Jomont, the manager of the Liberte, has been arrested as the result of the discovery in a secret printing plant of a block used for the reproduction of a leaflet addressed to the people of France and supporting the doctrines of Lenin and Trotsky. Emil Cottin, editor of the Journal Liberte, was arrested and his house searched. Captain Bouchardon, who investigated the Bolo Fashia and other cases for the military court, will conduct the investigation.
Clemenceau's Condition Good.
An official statement issued at 9 o'clock this morning by Premier Clemenceau's physicians reads:
"Temperature about 38.5. Failure of pulse 72. General state very good."
Premier Clemenceau will receive his colleagues of the supreme council at his house this afternoon to discuss certain important matters with them. His doctors consider him out of danger and therefore authorized him to receive the ministers this afternoon. The physicians believed he could resume his political activities on Monday.

Receives Many Visitors.
During the forenoon Premier Clemenceau received his daughter, Madame Jacquemais, and his granddaughter, and also former Premier Viviani, the foreign minister in Paris, and the Italian minister of finance. President Poincare called at the house twice to inquire after the premier's condition. The only possible danger, it is a celebrated French surgeon, "and it is fortunately, a very problematic one, is the appearance of local pulmonary congestion caused by reaction. There is no danger of a general reaction and robust constitution and magnificent vigor of the 'Tiger' are against such a complication. If by tomorrow night there is no temperature, the danger of absolute recovery. Every day that passes without fever appearing, doubles the patient's chances."
Rome Banded through Cardinal Roncalli has sent a message to Premier Clemenceau congratulating him on his escape and expressing hopes for his early recovery.

FARMERS TO INCORPORATE TOBACCO CO.

ROCK COUNTY GROWERS FORM
ASSOCIATION FOR COMMON
INTEREST; CAPITAL $2,000.

FORTY SHARES SOLD

Plan to Rent Warehouse, Hire Help
for Curing, and Allow All Members Privileges at Cost.

Immediate action in securing a warehouse in which to sort and cure unsold tobacco now held by farmers, because of the low prices offered, is promised by leaders of the movement. At a meeting of 100 interested growers in west side Odd Fellows hall yesterday afternoon the plan of selling shares at $25 each and giving back the $5 membership fee paid at Tuesday's meeting to those who did not want to buy stock, Mr. Cronin eventually opposed this measure as first desiring to have all men who had paid the fee represented. He finally came around to the same view and said he would back the organization. The plan was then adopted and the money paid in for memberships.
A committee to draw up the articles of incorporation and complete the incorporation of the association was selected by Eugene Culver, presiding, as follows: T. M. B. Gunn, Charles Shoemaker, and Charles Wright.
The discussion drifted back and forth over many minor points for over an hour. Numerous wrinkles were thrown into the plan by the fact that some farmers who thought the "little fellows" were being crowded out in favor of the "rich." It was plainly pointed out by William Lane, George Woodruff and Mr. Larrabee, that the matter how many growers took stock in the corporation, every farmer would be given the privilege of bringing in his tobacco for curing at the same price.
The measure is purely an emergency one and we must get some action immediately, declared George Woodruff. Mr. Larrabee, a dealer at the meeting and a grower of tobacco, furnished some good, common sense advice, and helped to boost the movement.

Hundreds of Michigan visitors, unable to get home last night, spent the night in doorways, in railway stations and in hotels.

Income Tax Blanks to Be Sent to Last Year Payers

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 21.—Tax return forms for incomes of less than $5,000 will be mailed by revenue collectors to all persons who filed returns within this amount last year, the revenue bureau announced today. This plan was adopted as a convenience to tax payers who will be relieved of the necessity of applying to the district collector of a bank for a copy. Failure to receive a blank does not relieve a person of liability to make a return, says the tax bureau. Persons who this year will file a return for the first time must apply for the blank. Similar procedure will be followed in distributing tax return forms for incomes of more than $5,000 and for corporation income reports although these forms are not yet available.

BERGER AND FOUR CO-DEFENDANTS ARE AT LIBERTY TODAY

ACTS AS STAY PENDING
APPEAL TO HIGHER
COURT.

OUT ON $25,000 BAIL

Have Difficulty in Giving Securities;
Released on Bonds Promising
No Further Espionage Law Violations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Feb. 21.—Victor L. Berger, socialist congressman-elect from Milwaukee and his four co-defendants are at liberty today following granting of a writ of supersedeas after sentence to 20 years imprisonment for violation of the espionage act. This acts as a stay pending appeal to the higher courts. Those sentenced with Berger by Judge Landis are Adolph Germer, secretary of the National Socialist party; J. Louis Engdahl, editor of the American Socialist; Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker, lecturer and writer and William P. Kruse, head of the Young People's Socialist League.

Following the granting of a petition for the writ by Judge Aischuler, counsel for the men went before Judge Samuel P. Aischuler of the circuit branch of the federal court and asked for bail. This was granted in the sum of $25,000 for each of the two counts of indictment under which each man was convicted. The five men were held in Judge Aischuler's court room until nearly midnight before bail was secured. As Berger and his companions filed out of the federal building they were followed by a crowd of well-wishers, cheering and singing. These came from two ward meetings at which Kruse and Engdahl were to speak last night.
A judge said that you are being released on bonds with the agreement that you are not to violate the law under which you have been convicted. Judge Aischuler told this Berger asked if he was to understand that he was to quit his position as editor of the Milwaukee Leader, his newspaper.

"You will have to make or bargain with you men," the judge answered. "You will have to use your own judgment."

TAFT CALLS LEAGUE CRITICISM HUMOROUS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Francisco, Feb. 21.—Former President Taft tonight replied to his critics and opponents of the plan for the establishment of a league of nations.

"Senator Borah wants to know in what he calls an open letter," said Mr. Taft, "whether it is the Monroe doctrine or not. In which the Monroe doctrine is not recognized."
Article X of the covenant drafted in Paris extends the Monroe doctrine to the entire world. Consequently it recognizes the Monroe doctrine and I am in entire support of the covenant.

Few and Senators Reed and Poincaré, shot out into the air on the theory that the people of this country do not read or that the government is not held statements unquestioned would be humorous if they were not the utterances of such eminent and learned gentlemen."

SPENT HALF YEAR IN HOSPITAL IN FRANCE

Lying wounded in a hospital in France for over half a year while his comrades were in the front lines, was the experience of Alfred Nelson, company M man who returned to Janesville early in January. He declared the treatment he received in the hospital was the best that he was always lonesome for his friends.
He with two other men from his platoon was wounded at Cantigny, Meo, in a trench, after the attack. He had gone over the top for the first time. Machine gun bullets passed through the calf of his right leg and his right arm, cutting the artery. He was also wounded in the wrist by shrapnel.
He was taken to a first aid station, later to be moved to a base hospital. There development of a gas infection made it necessary to perform a delicate operation on his arm, July 22. He remained in the hospital continually from the first of June until December 10, when he was released to be sent back to this country.

Although Cantigny was the first and only drive in which he participated he saw several days of fighting preceding the battle. He was in the trenches May 15, remained there until noon of the 26th when he went back of the lines only to return to the front trenches at night with a relief squad. They stayed in the trenches until May 25 when the big drive was launched. The zero hour was set for 6 o'clock that morning, and was carried out successfully. He "got his" in the second day's fighting.
"It was the best coming on the treatment I received in France or in the army camps here," declared Nelson.

He went to France as a member of the Company M, but was later transferred to Company A, 28th Infantry. He was in the same company with Harry McKinnon and a relief squad. He was with him when he was instantly killed by a shell while eating his breakfast on top of the trench. Alfred Nelson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nelson, who was returned to his old position at the Sutherland book store.

TIMMONS EXPLAINS USE OF IMAGINATION
"Art is the expression of one's imagination," said Edward J. Timmons last evening in an informal talk given before an audience who had assembled to view an exhibit of his pictures in the library. "An artist must see many things invisible to ordinary people, if he would fitly portray his high ideals," he continued.

In his own work, the strenuous task of portrait painting was interspersed with that of painting landscapes, which he only did for relaxation, and because he thought that artists should do all kinds of artistic work.

He felt that life was wonderful in its process of discipline, and that years of despondency and hard work were oftentimes the most valuable in their effect on life and character. During these periods of depression, the mind was thinking and absorbing impressions which were of immense influence later he said. He gave a short resume of some of the work of the modern artists, including Isidore, Sorolla, Raburn, Blacklock, and others.

Mr. Timmons was much pleased at the interest shown by the Art League in his work, and in Art topics generally, and offered to come to the league some time, and give them an idea of his methods by making a portrait of one of them, in record time, before an audience.

Given back and forth last evening and questions regarding art topics. An open session this afternoon closes the exhibit.

Private Gillespie was emphatic in stating that France was an excellent country, but that he preferred the United States and he was sure that the majority of the soldiers were eager to get back.

"We did not get in action," Gillespie said, "but if the Germans had turned yellow and not signed the armistice the Yanks would have been shelling Berlin within two weeks."

MAIN STREET PAVING CASE SET FOR MARCH

Among the cases which will be brought before Judge Grimm at the regular March term of circuit court will be the suit of the Gurnee-Graham Co. of Freeport vs. Janesville Traction Company to recover the sum of $5,127.57 for paving work on South Main street, completed in 1917.

Notice of trial at the March term was filed with Circuit Court Clerk Jesse Earle this morning.

It is alleged in the complaint which was filed July 30, 1918, that the two companies entered into a contract in 1917 when the city planned the paving of South Main street from Racine to Sharon streets, that the street-car company made an agreement to pay for the paving of a seven foot strip in the middle of the street. In December of that year it is alleged that officials of the traction company and representatives of the city approved the job and that no money has ever been paid by the traction company for the work which amounted to 2,161.55 yards.

ARMY DESERTER TAKEN BY POLICE

Art Stevens, like all Americans, was called by the government, to serve in the army. He responded and was sent to Camp Grant.

A short time ago he decided that he was not meant for a soldier and he did not sto to ask for a discharge, but he packed his traveling bag and left the army flat. The army got along without him, but his commanding officer was desirous to have him returned.

Ten days passed and the Camp Grant officials got busy and listed him as a deserter. The army was sent to the police to be on the watch for him.

In the meantime Arthur returned to Milwaukee and started to enjoy his freedom. He did not forget that he had absented himself without their permission.

Chief of Police Gower received a notice of the appearance of Arthur and instructed his men to keep a sharp eye for the young man.

Arthur arrived in town yesterday, all coiled out in civilian clothes. He started to spend a few days here. He started to enjoy his visit in Janesville. He was interrupted by the police and taken to the county jail.

This morning Arthur is resting behind the bars at the county jail and wondering what will happen to him when he meets his officers upon his second arrival at Camp Grant.

TELLS JUDGE HE HAD CHEAP DRUNK

Charles Roder of Oak Hill avenue kept the court attached and Judge Maxfield in a happy frame of mind by his witty answers when he was arraigned to answer a charge of intoxication.

"Guilty or not guilty," Judge Maxfield said.

"Guilty," Charles responded. "How often do you get drunk?" the judge asked.

"About once in 5 years," the man replied.

He was then asked if he thought he got his money's worth yesterday, and threw the court into an uproar when he stated that he had a cheap drunk who didn't think it cost him more than 60 cents.

"Well, it will cost you $10 and costs more," Judge Maxfield said.

So, of course, Roder replied, "but I won't be back here after the first of July."

PIG CLUB FINANCE PLAN IS SIMPLE

Attention is called by R. E. Acheson, county agent, to the simple method of financing the pure-bred pig club for boys and girls. Upon the acceptance of an application, the boy or girl is furnished with a brood sow for which the applicant gives a note, for the value of the sow, payable in nine months after the sow is received with interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

It was demonstrated in last year's club, that many times the value of the sow is realized within the nine months so the contestant is well able to redeem his note and pay the interest at the expiration of this period. The mutual insurance plan protects all members from excessive losses.

Mr. Acheson and S. M. Smith of the Merchants Savings bank are well pleased with the results of the membership campaign, so far and are looking forward to a spirited contest. Seven applications were received yesterday while this morning three applications from pupils in one school in the town of Milton were received.

Farmers who have pure bred pigs which they would like to sell are requested to communicate with Mr. Acheson.

WOMAN WINS CROSS FOR HER HEROISM

Miss Elsie de Wolfe.

Miss Elsie de Wolfe has just received a cable from the French government announcing that she has been awarded the Croix de Guerre with a bronze star. The decoration is for bravery under fire. During the week of March 21, 1918, Miss de Wolfe aided, under heavy bombardment, in the removal of the burned men in the Ambrose hospital, when the Germans were marching on Compiègne.

LOOKING AROUND

Several of Janesville's so-called "wise birds" are wondering this morning just how the Cardinals won both the games of the series. Many were sure that the series were set and that Detroit would run away ahead in the second contest. Now they are sorry and haven't a leg to stand on in the way of alibis.

Private Joseph Gillespie of Battery A, 381st Field Artillery arrived home yesterday. Joe was more than pleased to get back in Rock County and he made a hurried trip down South Jackson street about noon on Thursday.

Every member of the Detroit Y. M. O. basketball team paid a high tribute to Janesville and all were unanimous in declaring that they would like to be in the city next year.

One whole week has passed and Nevada McCarthy and Joe Denning have not had their names in the personal column as visiting in Chicago.

Plans are being made for the second game of the city series between Jim Hefferan's Nationals and Harry Ryan's All Stars. The two teams will clash next week.

Many people are wondering who the woman was who picked up and ate a handful of grated soap in O. D. Bates' grocery store thinking it was grated cocoanut. Sam Warner reports seeing a woman going up Main street frothing at the mouth.

Henry Tall came to the high school with a broad smile on his face this morning and announced that after careful thought he has decided to get a hair cut. Mr. Tall has been contemplating on having his locks cut some time, and his decision pleased the entire school.

Optimistic Thought. Resentment is temporary, but forgiveness is eternal.

Camp Dix, N. J.
Feb 15, 1919
"I suppose you have received Verne's telegram by this time stating that we arrived safely. I intended to write yesterday but we did not get to camp until five o'clock last night and then I had to work until midnight. We will be pretty busy now until we get discharged. Today we were transferred and attached to the 4th battalion, 168th depot brigade. I don't know what kind of an outfit it is as we have not reported there yet. I sort of hated to see the old company lose their name, but of course it is something that had to happen. We only have 18 left of the company that went overseas with us. As soon as we can we are going to have our picture taken and call it Co. B after 14 months in France. We came across on the cruiser Seattle. I suppose Verne told you about the trip as I will not bother you with it. I don't know whether we will be discharged here or sent back to Montana. If we are discharged here why I will stop and see all of you before going back to Montana.

Wrong Action Mitigated.
Laddie had been taught that when visiting he must never ask for anything to eat. One afternoon he was invited by a neighbor to visit her. He went alone, and on his return home his mother asked him if he had enjoyed the afternoon and said she hoped he had not asked for cookies. He replied: "Yes, I did, mamma, but I was werry polite."

"WHAT are the facts?" is a good question to ask when choosing the mediums for your advertising campaign. The investment of an appropriation for publicity is too important to be based on anything but cold facts—verified information. BERGER'S SOCIALISM.

Victor L. Berger and four other socialists, convicted of violation of the espionage act, have been sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment by Judge
Landis, Chicago.

Berger, before sentence was passed,
made a statement to the court, in which he said: "Socialism is a struggle between capital and labor and the capitalist knows it cannot continue."

Berger, with prison doors staring him in the face, continues to ride his pet hobby. For years he has attempted to swing the laboring man in-
to-line as an advocate of socialism.
He has made little impression on the great masses of workers of this country. He has failed to convince them that socialism is the panacea for all ills which both capital and labor have suffered. If he had convinced them, the socialists would be in the majority in this country, for the laboring men hold the balance of political and economic power.

Socialism is not a struggle between capital and labor only where agitators are seeking to stir up trouble for their own benefit make it so. The laboring man of today is better off than he has been in the history of this nation. He is the king of all the world's artisans. He has not allowed conditions which are harassing Europe today to arise because he has put his stamp of disapproval on that thing which has caused most of the industrial turmoil—socialism.

Berger has not lived a hard life.
For years he has made his living, at least, by his writings and talks on aggitation. The men whom he has urged to accept his remedy have paid for it.
He has not known the hardships
dured by the laborer who has harvested at every opportunity. He has become a leader because he is a smart man and has attended to his business, which is making the other fellow do the work while he told them how to do it. He has been keener than a whole lot of capitalists because he has not had to invest much money in order to tell the other fellow who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow, how to do his job.

Berger made a mistake when he continued to ride his hobby over rough places at a page which it could not stand. Before war was declared in 1914 it was not so hard to win converts to his cause because the country was not so prosperous as it has been since. The socialists did not shun the opportunity to gain by the higher wages, and when it was found that the working man could make wages as high or higher than the average professional man could earn, socialism
lost some of its glamour.

Berger also overlooked the fact that the majority of the people of this country are patriotic and that any man or group of men who attempted to harass the patriotic endeavor of the men and women of the United States at the time they were making sacrifices in sons for a cause they believed just under the label of socialism or anything else, were attempting a job which could not be accomplished.

Berger would have been a great man in some of the European countries which are now feeling the fangs of Bolshevism. He would have been a leader in almost any of the groups which put everything possible in the way of a victory for the allies against the whose ruthlessness and brutality has never been equalled in the history of the world. But he chose the wrong location for his performance and with the ringing down of the final curtain which will come with the clang of prison gates, this nation will be rid for a time, at least, of a man who has taken much from, and given little to, the men and women who have followed his teachings.

BORAH'S STAND.

Senator Borah's judgment of the league of nations may be wrong, but his attack on it, evidently, comes from patriotic motives. He sees Europe, not as the setting for an ideal peace program, but rather as the scene of a political mess and fears for his country if it gets tangled in it. Many Americans are so fearful of hurting the feelings of an ally that they refuse to see things in allied countries as they really are. Senator Borah is not one of these. He visualizes greedy, crafty politicians holding places of power in practically all European countries. He sees some of these governments absolutely controlled by im-perialists. He does not want to see his country in a league with such governments.

Imperialists who control Italy's affairs are determined to annex Jugo Slav lands to which they have no right. The Ju-Go Slavs want parts of Austria and Hungary. They are quarrelling among themselves. Greece is clamoring for Constantinople, a city mainly populated by Turks, and hardly at all by Greeks. Clemenceau and his followers in France want the Sanc valley, which is as German as Berlin, and they want Armenia and Syria. The Czechs are fighting for German and Polish territory. Force is being used by the Poles to win parts of Germany which are purely German. They have announced that they propose to annex Lithuania. The Ukrainians are waging imperialistic warfare against Great Russia. White Russia, Poland and Roumania. The Roumanians are moving against the Magyars, Turks, Bulgars and Serbs.
The Serbs would engulf Montenegro
and Montenegro has covetous eyes upon northern Albania.

Senator Borah sees all this as well
as the anarchy which has swept over

Russia. It has disgusted him as far as a league of nations plan is concerned. He wants the United States to hold itself aloof from this entanglement. A great many of our citizens do not agree with him. But they will have to admit that there is something to be said on his side.

GOVERNOR ON ROADS.

Gov. Philipp in his talk before the game association Wednesday night assumed the position that roads which were good enough years ago are good enough now. He declared himself for economy in road-building in the same breath. We cannot agree with the governor, that poor roads in these times of heavy traffic in which motor vehicles are used almost exclusively by city and farm folk are the priority. We do not think those who have to use some of the highways in Rock county will agree with the governor either.

Spending money is sometimes the best method of practicing economy as has been proven by business men of experience. The governor in his private business would not hesitate to add up-to-date equipment if he saw that his transportation facilities would bring him a better return. The governor understands the traffic business
for he is in it and has made money from it. We cannot picture him urging his associates to go slow on expenditures if he could see how he could increase capacity and make the improved service pay the bill.

Of course Gov. Philipp is interested in transportation problems as a private citizen, but they are rail problems and do not concern the highways over which the man who wishes to draw a load of produce to market must use. The federal government is urging the building of good roads at this time; the men who use them
want them as soon as they can be constructed, and those who will have to provide for the money if the expenditure is spread out, as it can be, over a long period so that the burden will be distributed among those who can use the highways in years to come. With this frame of mind prevalent, the governor's plea for "economy" will not be seriously considered.

ACCREDITED HERDS.

Herd owners of Rock county should be interested in the federal and state plan which provides that immediate steps can be taken to have their herds accredited. Both grades and purebred are eligible for this list.

Almost every week, buyers from various states come to Rock county for stock. The reputation of Rock county herds has spread to the wide corners of the nation.

Application for free official tests for admission to the lists can be made to the state veterinarian or Dr. J. S.
Healy of the bureau of animal husbandry, state department of agriculture, Madison.

Two official tests will be made by federal or state veterinarians on herds whose owners desire to have them accredited. If no reactors appear on the first test the herd will be listed on the state and federal accredited herd lists as having had one clean test. If the second test is successful,
the herd will be fully accredited.

Farmers whose herds have been fully accredited will have the advantage of being able to ship their stock without special test.

It is difficult for us who are 3,000 miles away to attempt to solve the problems the war department is facing in France, but it seems unfair to keep United States soldiers at the front chopping at the rate of $1 a day while French soldiers are enjoying themselves on the boulevards and in the cafes of French cities. Our boys did not whimper when they were asked to fight. They performed their tasks with fidelity and courage, which aroused the admiration of the world.
But now that they have done their job, it seems that they should be relieved from the labor of "clearing up the mess."

The assembly has taken the first step to boost the salary of legislators
by taking off the limitation. The majority of the lower house evidently do not expect to return next session.
They are willing to leave the control of compensation to those who will occupy seats two years from now.

We are over half way on the $100-000 subscriptions for the housing corporation. Let every man who feels that Janesville is going to benefit by an increased population and an increased business, subscribe for a portion of the remainder before this week ends.

THEIR OPINIONS.

On the Books.
The Wisconsin legislature is planning to make the anti-cigarette law a little more drastic. And the more drastic the law the less likely it is to be enforced. The present law, which prohibits the sale of cigarettes to be somewhat akin to that of the bicycle ordinance in some cities—it is on the books—that's all.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

Remedy is Poor.
Senator Bennett of Viroqua, insists that Badger farmers are at the mercy of a farm machinery trust. He thinks it is true, however, some better remedy should be found than the proposal to have the state start the manufacture of farm machinery.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Get It Over With.
Don't put off making out your income tax return until the last day of the month. The amount of the income is not going to get any less and your conscience will not be any more hardened than now. Get it over with —Kenosha News.

Better Behavior.
Agitators will learn a hard course of time that even though the United States is a free country to enjoy its privileges,
they must behave themselves.—Rhinelander Daily News.

Depends on the viewpoint.
Whether you decide that Germany is whipped,
winning or getting ready for another war.—Evanston News.

Right Will Triumph.
It doesn't matter what progress
wrong may make it will be dethroned
in time. It can not exist side by side with right. Right will finally triumph. It always has done so and it always will do so.—Racine Journal

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

Let loose the sails of love and let
them fill
With breezes sweet with tenderness
today.
Sweep not the praises youthful lovers say.
Romance is old, but it is lovely still.
Not he who shows his love deserves
the jeer.
But he who speaks not what she longs to hear.

There is no shame in love's devoted speech.
Man need not blush his tenderness
to show.
The shame to love and never let
her know.
To keep his heart forever out of reach.
Not he the fool who lets his love
go on.
But he who spurns it when his love is won.

Men proudly vaunt their love of gold
and fame.
High station and accomplishments
of skill.
Yet of life's greatest conquest they are still.
And deem it weakness or an act of shame
To seem to place high value on the love.
Which first of all they should be proudest of.

Let loose the sails of love and let
them fill
The tender breezes fill the day bespeak.
Only the fool chokes out life's sentiment.
She is the prize too lovely to forsake.
Be not ashamed to send your valentine.
She has your love, but needs its outward sign.

21, 1879.—Last evening, the assault
case of Churchill was brought to a close. The case has been in progress before Justice Wickham for several days, and the summary of the charges
has already been given in the Gazette.
Justice Wickham decided to discharge

the Wisconsin Conservation commission to slay fifty deer on the island that were causing much damage to the fruit and

MAKE OLD SHOES WEAR LIKE NEW

"I had Neolin Soles put on my shoes—wore these shoes every day for fifteen months, then had Neolin halfsoles put on. They are still in good condition," writes F. T. Evans, of Seattle, Washington.
This is cutting shoe bills down to the minimum through Neolin Soles. Anyone can do this if he will follow Mr.
Evans' example, and have his shoes re-bottomed with Neolin Soles. These tough, durable soles cost no more than soles that give out in ordinary wear. And all good repair shops have them.

Neolin Soles come on new shoes,
too—in many styles for men, women and children. They are created by Science to be all that soles should be,
comfortable and waterproof, as well as long-wearing. They are made by

Heels—guaranteed to outwear any

MILK--The Cheapest of Nature's Foods

Damie Nature, in her wisdom, has provided Milk as the staple—the universal and economical—food for all mankind. Placed on a comparative basis with heavy foods, it is cheaper than beef, veal, pork, potatoes, beans, and a score of other articles used for daily food.

In these days of high living cost and food conservation it behooves everyone to cut down on their supply of meats and other heavy foods and DRINK MORE MILK.

Indispensible to Health in Young and Old

For growing children pure, rich milk is an absolute necessity. It contains all of the elements necessary to healthy, vigorous growth and development. It is a bone-builder and tissue-builder. It nourishes and builds up the body, makes for keen intellect and is particularly helpful to children in their school work.

But do not look upon Milk as merely a food for children. It is equally beneficial and healthful in adults alike. Get the habit of drinking a quart of good, pasteurized and clarified milk EVERY DAY and note how you'll improve in health.

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS
Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

The sea of waste rolled unbroken as far as his fading eyes could reach. He sank back with a sigh, not to rise again, and closed his eyes and waited. He slept a short, restless, feverish sleep, and in it dreams chased one another like those evoked by a narcotic, but out of them, over and over again came the picture of Julia Redmond, and she sang to him the song whose words were a prayer for the safety of a loved one during the night.

From that romantic melody there seemed to rise more solemn ones. He heard the rolling of the organ in the cathedral in his native town, for he came from Rouen originally, where there is one of the most beautiful cathedrals in the world. The music rolled and rolled and passed over the desert's face. It seemed to lift his spirit and to cradle it. Then he breathed his prayers—they took form, and in his sleep he repeated the Ave Maria and the Paternoster, and the words rolled and rolled over the desert's face and the supplication seemed to his feverish mind to mingle with the stars.

A sort of midnight dew fell upon him: so at least he thought, and it seemed to him a heavenly dew and to cover him like a benignant rain. He grew cooler. He prayed again, and with his words there came to the young man an ineffable sense of peace. He pillowd his fading thoughts upon it; he pillowd his aching mind upon it and his body, too, and the pain of his wound and he thought aloud, with only the night air to hear him, in broken sentences: "If this is death it is not so bad. One should rather be afraid of life. This is not difficult, if I should ever get out of here I shall not regret this night."

Toward morning he grew calmer, he turned to speak to his little companion. In his troubled thoughts he had forgotten Pithoune.

Sabron faintly called him. There was no response. Then the soldier listened in silence. It was absolutely unbroken. Not even the call of a night-bird—not even the cry of a hyena—nothing came to him but the in-

MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE

MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

Be Careful in Using

Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulled coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this pure oil from Scott's Emulsion.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

articulate voice of the desert. Great and solemn awe crept up to him, crept up to him like a spirit and sat down by his side. He felt his hands grow cold, and his feet grow cold. Now, unable to speak aloud, there passed through his mind that this, indeed, was death, desertion absolute in the heart of the plains.

CHAPTER XIV.

An American Girl.

The Marquise d'Esclagnac said that she had to reckon with an American girl. Those who know these girls know what their temper and mettle are, and that they are capable of the finest reverberation.

Julia Redmond was very young. Otherwise she would never have let Sabron go, without one sign that she was not indifferent to him, and that she was rather bored with the idea of titles and fortunes. But she adored her aunt and saw, moreover, something else than ribbons and velvets in the make-up of the aunt. She saw deeper than the polish that a long Parisian lifetime had overlaid, and she loved what she saw. She respected her aunt, and knowing the older lady's point of view, had been timid and hesitating until now.

Now the American girl woke up, or rather asserted herself.

"My dear Julia," said the Marquise d'Esclagnac, "are you sure that all the thinned things, the cocoa, and so forth, are on board? I did not see that box."

"Ma tante," returned her niece from her steamer chair, "it's the only piece of luggage I am sure about."

At this response her aunt suffered a slight qualm for the fate of the rest of her luggage, and from her own chair

she said: "I shall telegraph Madame d'Haus-sonville and ask permission for you to go in that as an auxiliary of the Red Cross to Algiers, or rather, Robert is at Nice. I shall telegraph him."

"Oh, ma tante!"

"He asked me to make up my own party for a cruise on the Mediterranean," said the Marquise d'Esclagnac thoughtfully.

Miss Redmond fetched the telegraph blank and the pad from the table. The color began to return to her cheeks. She put from her mind the idea that her aunt had plans for her. All ways were fair in the present situation.

The Marquise d'Esclagnac wrote her dispatch, a very long one, slowly. She said to her servant:

"Call up the Villa des Perroquets at Nice. I wish to speak with the Duc de Tremont."

She then drew her niece very gently to her side, looking up at her as a mother might have looked.

"Darling Julia, Monsieur de Sabron has never told you that he loved you?"

Julia shook her head.

"Not in words, ma tante."

There was a silence, and then Julia Redmond said:

"I only want to assure myself that he is safe, that he lives. I only wish to know his fate."

"But if you go to him like this, ma chere, he will think you love him. He must marry you! Are you making a serious declaration?"

"Ah," breathed the girl from between trembling lips, "don't go on. I shall be shown the way."

The Marquise d'Esclagnac then said, musing:

"I shall telegraph to England for provisions. Food is vile in Algiers. Also, Melanie must get out our summer clothes."

"Ma tante!" said Julia Redmond, "our summer clothes?"

"Did you think you were going alone, my dear Julia?"

She had been so thoroughly the American girl that she had thought of nothing but going. She threw her arms around her aunt's neck with an abandon that made the latter young again. The Marquise d'Esclagnac kissed her niece tenderly.

"Madame la Marquise, Monsieur le Duc de Tremont is at the telephone," the servant announced to her from the doorway.

CHAPTER XV.

Julia's Romance.

From her steamer chair the Marquise d'Esclagnac asked:

"Are you absorbed in your book, Julia?"

Miss Redmond faintly smiled as she laid it down. She was absorbed in but one thing, morning, noon and night, waking or sleeping: when and where she should find him; how he was being treated. Had he been taken captive? He was not dead, of that she was sure.

"What is the book, Julia?"

"Le Conte d'un Spahi."

"Put it down and let me speak to you of Robert de Tremont."

Miss Redmond, being his guest and indebted to him for her luxurious transportation, could not in decency refuse the request.

"He knows nothing whatever of our errand, Julia."

"Ah, then, what does he think?"

Miss Redmond on the arm of her blue serge coat wore a band of white, in the center of which gleamed the Red Cross. The marquise, wrapped in

Pleasant Fields Of Holy Writ

Do Not Get Careless With Your Blood Supply

Impurities Invite Disease

You should pay particular heed to any indication that your blood supply is becoming sluggish, or that there is a lessening in its strong and vital force.

By keeping your blood purified, your system more easily wards off disease that is ever present, waiting to attack wherever there is an openident from their shameful lapse. They were perfectly free to recede from the covenant which had been ratified in the thunders of the mount. They actually did so. O, the fearful element of selfishness which inheres in nations and individuals, and determines their destiny! It is a dread gift, exalting the recipient to highest heaven, but making his fall to lowest hell possible. The grievous consequences of sin, its perils and its most ineradicable nature, have a startling illustration in this circumstance. It turned into a Hebrew proverb. "No affliction happens to Israel in which there is not some particle of the dust of the golden calf."

The "golden calf" after all is not so modern as we supposed. Moses used 3,000 years ago when he made Israel swallow his own god. As Kiehl says, he "poured it into their bowels."

As well as shameful sinfulness of adopting measures of expediency when moral principles are at stake, is here exemplified. The result should be, "There is no shading of a neutral tint between the two. The cry is still, 'Who is on the Lord's side?'"

Is Your Blood Poor? If it is, You Need Vinol

Anaemic, run-down, nervous, devitalized conditions result from poor or thin blood. A glance at the formula of Vinol, printed on the label, will show that it contains the very ingredients necessary to make good blood. It soon creates a healthy appetite, improves digestion, and helps you to get full benefit from your daily food, and builds you up.

Drowsville, N.H.

"My daughter was anaemic, had poor blood and suffered from indigestion and bilious attacks. As Vinol helped my son, I gave it to my daughter—she soon improved in health, and it has built her up and restored her health."—Mrs. N. Burnell.

Bradford, Pa.

"I have used Vinol for improved blood. I was broken up with a rash and run down so it was hard for me to keep about my work. Other medicines did no good, but Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."—Rose Lasky.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

MOSES PRAYING FOR ISRAEL

The position of the emigrant nation at Sinai without a parallel in history, and trying in the last degree. The region was utterly unequal by any natural means to the sustenance of the vast population so suddenly started upon it. There were wide tracts of the shock of whose impetuous valor Israel had already felt at Rephidim, and whose scouts were doubtless still alertly watching their movements from many a concealed aerie. It was not impossible that the empire whose invincible might they had eluded, might yet equip an expedition for their recapture or extermination. The people were in a state of panic. The mountain-top burned and blazed with his ineffable presence. But the people's heart was still gross. Their religious perceptions were indistinct. As they looked upon the mountain-top, they saw the power that had brought them out of Egypt. They had not attained to the idea of the omnipotence of God. They probably looked upon him as a tutelary deity, whose jurisdiction it was possible for them to stray. They were very far short of the idea of the spirituality of God. They were not yet beyond the stage of the worship of a golden calf. The people were also of Moses, and showed their spleen in the contemptuous language they used concerning him. It was a crucial hour in Israel's history. God was proving the genuineness of their faith. The test was severe, but not out of proportion to their ability to endure it. The days of Moses' absence continued, and of the intermission of divine communications. The people were in a state of panic. The mountain-top burned and blazed with his ineffable presence. But the people's heart was still gross. Their religious perceptions were indistinct. As they looked upon the mountain-top, they saw the power that had brought them out of Egypt. They were very far short of the idea of the spirituality of God. They were not yet beyond the stage of the worship of a golden calf. The people were also of Moses, and showed their spleen in the contemptuous language they used concerning him. It was a crucial hour in Israel's history. God was proving the genuineness of their faith. The test was severe, but not out of proportion to their ability to endure it. The days of Moses' absence continued, and of the intermission of divine communications. The people were in a state of panic. The mountain-top burned and blazed with his ineffable presence. But the people's heart was still gross. Their religious perceptions were indistinct. As they looked upon the mountain-top, they saw the power that had brought them out of Egypt. They had not attained to the idea of the omnipotence of God. They probably looked upon him as a tutelary deity, whose jurisdiction it was possible for them to stray. Holding Forth the Word of Life

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE
Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago

TEXT—Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not been in vain, neither labored in vain.—Phil. 2:16.

Paul told his Philippian converts that it was not enough for them to be blameless and harmless, it was their duty also to hold forth the word of life. He intimated that if he did not find them engaged in personal work on his return he should consider his labor upon them practically wasted.

Every Christian has opportunities to do personal work. A friend of mine was giving a Bible-reading in an Eastern city. At the close a lady came to her and said: "Mrs. Walker, I do not agree with all you said today. You said that all Christians can lead souls to Christ if they will. But that is not true. Look at me, for instance. I am a mother with several small children. I could not have attended this meeting today only if my mother came to take care of my children. So you see that there are some people who cannot lead others to Christ."

Mrs. Walker replied: "Perhaps so, but I do not quite see it yet. Would you mind if I asked you a few questions?"

"Certainly not."

"Very well. Do you employ a milkman?"

"Yes."

"How often does he call at your house?"

"Every morning."

"Is he a Christian?"

"I don't know."

"Does the grocer call at your house very often?"

"Yes, once a day at least, and sometimes twice."

"Is he a saved man?"

"Well, really, I cannot say. I have never asked him."

"Does the meat man call every day?"

"Yes."

"Has he been converted?"

"Mrs. Walker, I don't know anything about it." And with that she turned and went out of the room.

Two years afterward Mrs. Walker was in the same city, giving a Bible-reading in another church. At the close a lady came up to her and said: "Mrs. Walker, do you remember me?"

"No, I don't think I have ever seen you before."

"Well, I remember you very distinctly." Then she related their former interview, and said: "I went out of that room vexed with you and myself and everybody else. I couldn't sleep very much that night. I pondered the matter long and carefully, and finally came to the conclusion that it was just as much my business as any one's to know about the spiritual condition of those who were daily coming to my door."

"I made up my mind that I would begin with the milkman, and I thought out a nice little speech to fit his case. I arose early, built my fire, and waited for my man. Pretty soon he came hurrying in, poured out his milk, and was about to leave. Meanwhile I had been fumbling about, trying to find my speech; but somehow I could not get hold of either end of it. Finally, in despair, I shouted out his name just as he went out of the door. He hurried back, and began to tip up his milk can, saying as he did so, 'Do you want another quart?'"

"No, I don't want another quart," I replied. "I want to ask you if you are a Christian."

"He sat down in a chair, and, looking me straight in the face, he said: 'Mrs. —, why didn't you ask me that question last year? You remember we were holding special meetings in our church, and I was interested, but I felt ashamed to let it be known. However, I knew that you were a Christian; and so I kept telling you about the meetings, and talking to you every morning about one and another who had come out for Christ, hoping that you would say something to me about my soul. You never said one word, Mrs. —, and now I don't care one cent about the whole business,' and with that he picked up his milk cans and left the house."

"Mrs. Walker, perhaps you can imagine how I felt. I lay down on my kitchen floor flat on my face, and there I sobbed out my shame and grief before God until I was assured of his forgiveness. I promised him that I would try to live so that none who came to my door should ever have just cause to say that I did not care for his soul. Then I arose and prepared for business. And Mrs. Walker, there were nine people who came to my house that day to whom I was able to give a gospel message, and today seven out of the nine are professing Christians. Mrs. Walker, I believe you are right when you say that every Christian can lead others to Christ."

It is foolish to be afraid of making our ties too spiritual, as if so we could lose any genuine love.—Lucy Larcum.

Truly Useful Tree.

In Australia cattle and sheep are fond of grazing on the foliage of the weeping she-oak or beef-wood, Casuarina quadrivalvis, and some farmers grow it for that purpose. It thrives in California on poor sandy soil and is a decidedly ornamental tree.

NOURISHING DISHES.
Baked Soy Beans.—Two and one-half cups soy beans, one-quarter cup of molasses, two slices of bacon, one-half teaspoon of salt, pepper. Soak the beans in cold water for 24 hours. Drain, cover with water and simmer until tender. Place a layer of beans in a casserole, then the molasses. Then the bacon, cut in small pieces, should be added, and last the seasoning. Repeat layers until the dish is full. Bake two hours, adding a little boiling water from time to time as needed, but do not get them too moist.

Creamed Lima Beans.—Soak two of lima beans in cold water over night. Drain, cover with boiling water and simmer gently until very tender, but not broken apart. A speck of soda added to the water softens the water and makes them cook more quickly. A medium sized onion, cooked with the beans gives a delicate flavor. The onion may be removed before serving. When the beans are tender, melt two tablespoons butter substitute, add two tablespoons flour and some of the liquid in which the beans were cooked. Add this to the beans and cook until slightly thickened. Lima beans may also be baked, which gives a pleasant variation.

Boston Roast.—Soak one pound of kidney beans over night in cold water. Simmer until soft, then drain and either mash or put through the meat-chopper. Add one-half pound of cheese cut fine, season to taste, and add bread crumbs to shape into a loaf. Bake one hour in a moderate oven, basting occasionally with a mixture made of two tablespoons of butter substitute melted in one-half cup of boiling water. Serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce.—Melt one tablespoon butter substitute in this fry one slice of onion cut fine, add a light brown, add two tablespoons of flour; when smooth add one cup of tomato. Cook until thick. Season to taste.

Baked Beans. Rarebit—One cup grated cheese, one cup milk, one cup mashed baked beans, one tablespoon butter substitute, one egg, one-quarter teaspoon mustard, one-quarter cup spoon split. Use a double boiler for cooking this. Melt the butter substitute, melt the cheese in the melted fat, add the seasoning and the milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Add the mashed bean pulp, beaten egg and mustard. Serve on hot toast.

Comet and Tomato Soup.—Three-quarters cup cornstarch or ground canned tomatoes, one cup milk, one cup tomato, one cup water, one slice lemon, one stalk celery, two tablespoons butter, one and one-half tablespoons flour. Cook cornstarch (or corn) in water and celery 30 minutes; rub through sieve, put flour and butter in a sauce pan, stir over fire until well blended, add salt, pepper and pinch of onion powder.

Cottage Cheese Salad.—Two cups cottage cheese, one cup pickled beets, diced, mix and add salad dressing and serve on lettuce.

Lettuce and Celery Salad.—Chop the desired quantity of celery. Mix with French dressing and serve on lettuce leaves.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

I didn't have room in the last story to tell you when the two little rabbits went to bed, but I've plenty of room in this one to tell you when they got up, which was early in the morning, when the dew was on the grass and Mr. Happy Sun was shining through the window glass.

And as soon as breakfast was over the old gentleman rabbit and his little nephew went out to the garden to see if the vegetables were out of the ground, and there was the old red rooster with a hoe cutting out the weeds. And would you believe it if I didn't say so, the sunflowers were as high as the old board fence, and the lettuce was green and big and the carrots—well, everybody knows how carrots look, so I won't tell you.

"Uncle Sam certainly has wonderful seeds," said Uncle Lucky. "I hope he'll send me some more next year." And then he picked a sunflower and put it in his buttonhole.

"Now, you keep on working," said the old gentleman rabbit. "Bunny and I are going out in the Luckymobile." So they left the old red rooster with his hoe and hopped into the Luckymobile and drove out of the front gate.

"Good-by," twittered the little sparrow.

"Don't be gone long," squeaked little Mrs. Mouse.

"Cock-a-doodle-do," said the old Red Rooster, and pretty soon the Luckymobile was out of sight, and that lazy old rooster was over the hill and under the big elm tree and smoked his corn-cob pipe for an hour and thirteen seconds.

"Where shall we go?" asked the old gentleman rabbit after they had gone for maybe a mile and maybe more, for they went so fast I've forgotten the score.

"Let's make a call on the Billy Goat who runs the ferryboat," said Billy Bunny, so they turned down a shady road that led to the river and by and by they came to the little house near the bank where the old Billy Goat lived when he wasn't on his ferryboat.

But when the two little rabbits knocked at the door nobody answered, so they hopped down to the river's edge and looked over the water to see if they could find the old ferryboat. And sure enough there it was coming right toward them and pretty

ARMENIAN GIRL TORTURED BY THE TURKS TELLS STORY TO HELP RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Miss Aurora Mardiganian, sitting, and Mrs. Oliver Harriman.

Miss Aurora Mardiganian, maimed, tortured and imprisoned by the Turks who acted under orders of the German commanders, is telling her story in America to help the campaign for $30,000,000 for relief work in Armenia. The Armenian girl appears with a film, "Ravished Armenia," which tells the story of her life. The film is the official picture of the American committee for relief in the near east. Miss Mardiganian's left leg still bears evidence of the torture inflicted. Mrs. Harriman, shown with the girl, is interested in the campaign.

soon it came up to the old wharf and Billy Goat climbed down from his little pilot house on the roof and shook hands with them.

"Haven't seen you for a month of Saturdays," he said with a grin, and then he stroked his goatie and scratched his left ear with the end of his tail, which is a mighty hard thing for a goat to do, you know, for his tail is dreadfully short and stubby. And the next time you shall hear what happened after that.

The Reason.

"No matter what is the trouble, I am always the goat." "That is because you are always butting in."

RUSSELL SAYS PLAN OF SOLDIER LANDS N. G. IN WISCONSIN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Feb. 20.—"The present plan of the federal administration for the settlement of returned soldiers in community groups and selected areas absolutely will not do for conditions in the Great Lakes region," declared R. L. Russell, dean of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, before the state convention of Wisconsin real estate men today.

The government plan is to settle a returned soldier on land reclaimed by government supervision and pay, the cost of reclaiming and the price of land to be returned in long time payments.

While emphasizing the right of the federal government to exercise supervision over the soldier, he attacked the present plan because it is unfair, unwise, and undemocratic.

"Forty thousand of Wisconsin's 110,000 soldiers were from farms," declared the dean. "If these 40,000 men who come largely from the southern and central parts of the state are to benefit by government assistance it means that they must leave their homes to go to some other spot in this state selected by the government. They could not receive government assistance if they want to settle near their own homes because there are no large areas of unsettled land in southern and central Wisconsin."

Dean Russell believes in a state policy which will not only include the soldier, but anyone else who wants to work for a home and farm. With county agents in practically every county having unsettled land and with branch experiment stations already established in these sections, the state is ready to serve the soldier.

That the state should protect the home seeker from unscrupulous practices, misrepresentation and fraud was another point urged by Dean Russell. Financial aid from the government, he feels, should include a plan whereby the beginning home seeker may receive proper and needed assistance.

MILTON COLLEGE TO RAISE RANDOLPH FUND

Milton, Feb. 20.—The students of Milton college have pledged their support to a plan of raising a substantial fund as a memorial to the late Dr. Randolph. The fund when raised will be added to the permanent endowment of Milton college, the income of which may perhaps be applied to some specified object in memory of the faithful friend, whose labors were generously bestowed upon the task of increasing the endowment of the college.

The trustees of the college and the students have appointed committees to cooperate in carrying out this plan. The committee of trustees consists of Pres. William C. Daland, Dr. George W. Post, Sr., and Dr. L. M. Babcock. That of the students consists of Miss Pearl R. Gardner, Miss Iaphene O. Allen and James I. Stillman.

It is now proposed that the amount of this memorial fund be fixed at the sum of $50,000 to be subscribed in one thousand shares of $50 each.

In all probability the trustees will soon initiate other plans for the continuance of Dr. Randolph's work. This proposed fund will be a distinct one, in Dr. Randolph's memory, to be called the "Randolph Memorial Endowment Fund."

Make this wonderful old-time breakfast
the easy Aunt Jemima way!

Buckwheat cakes—with sausage! Oh, how that combination does tempt the appetite on a wintry February morning!

Perhaps you've been forgetting how "powerful good" buckwheat cakes really are! Give yourself a treat tomorrow—see what pleasant memories the first taste brings back! Memories of all sorts of healthy outdoor things—hickory smoke curling upward in thin blue wisps—skating on the old pond, coasting down the big hill into drifts of snow—

It's the simplest thing in the world to make buckwheat cakes—if you make them the easy Aunt Jemima way!

All you need is a package of Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Flour—you add nothing but water. Everything necessary to make the best buckwheat cakes you've ever tasted is already mixed in the flour.

Order a package of Aunt Jemima Buckwheat (in the yellow package) from your grocer and give your husband this wonderful old-time breakfast tomorrow! Aunt Jemima Mills Company, St. Joseph, Missouri.

DENIES HE PLANNED TO KILL PRESIDENT

Pietro Pierre.

When U. S. secret service operatives arrested Pietro Pierre in Cleveland, O., recently, they announced that a well-laid plan by the
1. W. W. to kill President Wilson and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, had been secured. They stated that Pierre was the man chosen by lot to kill Wilson.
Pierre denies the charge and says laughingly that he is the victim of "dime-novel fictionists" and has been
"framed."

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus.

visible as a faint luminous cloud and which given name to the entire group. The story of the name is interesting. Berenice was the wife of Ptolemy Soter, a great king of Egypt. Before he started on a perilous expedition against the Assyrians, she vowed to sacrifice her beautiful hair to Venus if he returned in safety. As he did return, both safe and victorious, she cut off her hair according to her vow and sent it to the Temple, whence it soon disappeared. The king was greatly angered and ordered the Temple astrologers to discover its whereabouts and recover the prized tresses. Also, he threatened them with death in case of failure. Naturally their astrology failed them, and their chief told the king that Jupiter himself had removed the hair from the Temple and placed it up in this constellation in the heavens; which pleased and mollified the king. The practice of astronomy these days is a far less romantic.

Coming up over the horizon is the constellation Virgo, the Virgin. This constellation contains one beautiful white star, Spica, which does not rise until after the map time. Between Virgo and Leo is a wonderful arc of stars. It contains no bright stars, but the telescope has revealed here not less than 500 nebulae. Just why a small area of the sky should be so crowded with these very interesting forms of matter is not known. The nebulae here are systematically connected, forming a separate universe, in which most of the members have reached about the same stage of development, or whether the coloration is merely fortuitous.

VETERINARIAN DISCHARGED
Dr. R. H. Busch, veterinarian, has received his discharge from the service and has returned to his practice at Milton Junction and Milton.

Arcadia members will meet in the Armory block, Dr. Holsapple's old office at 7:30 sharp by order of the committee.

Today's Possibilities.
There is only one way to enjoy life and that is to enjoy it in pieces—a here and a bit there. And a great many little bits make up a big bit. We all know that the richest people are not the happiest by any means. After all, what have they that takes the place of youth and health, of work and play?

SPORTS

CARDS BEAT DETROIT
SECOND TIME IN TWO DAYS; SCORE 29 TO 27

Lakota Cardinals defeated the Detroit Y. M. C. A. by the score of 29 to 27 for the second time in two days at the armory last night. It was one of those nerve-racking games which one reads about but seldom sees. The lead then saw-sawed from side to side throughout the battle and for several minutes in the last half the score was a tie, 27 all. With but three minutes left to play Casserly dropped in a pretty one from outside the free throw circle putting the Cards two points ahead. Detroit battled gamely for the tying score in the last few minutes and several times threatened to count. The whistle found the ball in possession of the Cards with the score standing 29-27.

The Michigan bunch put up a much better exhibition than the night before but it was a case of top much Phelps for them. The Card forward of the long limbs dropped in ten of the prettiest field goals ever scored on the armory floor. He was dead on baskets and was a dangerous man when he had his hands on the sphere. With comparative ease he sailed the ball through the hoop from all angles and distances. It must be admitted that he had his luck with him, but at the same time his goals were not of the famous horse-shoe brand.

Henderson, Detroit's new center, was guilty of scoring at equally difficult angles. He was the heaviest scorer for the Wolverines counting six times. E. Smokelwicz snatched the floor for three baskets while Whitlock and Dermody copped a couple apiece. Casserly's two baskets came just when they were needed while Hemming and Murphy dropped in one each from the middle zone. Detroit passed up several free throws which might have won the game for them. It was Janesville's stone-wall defense which was again responsible for the victory. Peterson and Casserly aided by the rest of the game kept the ball out of dangerous territory at all times. Whitlock and E. Smokelwicz then boosted Detroit's score only to let Phelps ring another one. Henderson took a swipe at the basket from the side and made it and Dermody followed with one from the middle of the floor. Phelps, Casserly, and Hemming took a spurt and each scored one in rapid succession. Smokelwicz followed by Whitlock. After missing a free throw "Smoke" aged a long one followed by Murphy, ending the half 19 to 17 in favor of the Cards.

Detroit opened the second half with a rush and with Henderson's two baskets took the lead by two points. Phelps soon got going and scored bringing the score to 22 all again. The crowd cheering wildly Phelps scored two long ones. The Card defense slackened up a little here and Henderson and Dermody picked up to one apiece, bringing the score up to 27 all. Casserly's basket was the last score of the game.

HAGER'S TEAM MEETS
NEWMAN FIVE TONIGHT

Hager's Reds, winners of the employed boys' championship and Newman's team of the high school league, will meet at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight to decide the championship of the Y. M. C. A. Both sides won out in their respective leagues after a hard struggle, and a fast game is expected tonight. Fully 100 spectators will be present to cheer the teams on to victory.

The probable lineup will be:
Newman's Hager's
Burpee Manther
Earle McCluskey
Smith Sullivan
Aller Siskin
Newman Luedtke

J. H. S. Champion Five to Meet Edgerton Tonight

Janesville High school championship basketball team will play the fast Edgerton team at the Tobacco city this evening in a game which is expected to be an easy victory for the local bunch. The blue team has already defeated them once earlier in the season by a large score and tonight's game will doubtless be the same. The team will leave for Edgerton this afternoon and return to Janesville tomorrow morning. The regular line-up will probably start the game with Rod at center, Sprackling and Nuzum at forwards, and Powers and Fisher at guards. Decker and McElay will also get into the game.

ALL ABOARD FOR AQUAPLANE PARTY

Vance Veith, famous Pacific coast swimmer, and two friends aquaplaning at Balboa Beach, Cal.

Swimming enthusiasts in the northern sections will envy the trio shown above. Vance Veith, noted Pacific coast swimmer, and two expert water swimmers are aquaplaning on a single board attached to a speedy powerboat. Aquaplaning becomes a more popular sport every season.

POSTOFFICE TEAM
LOSES TO BELOIT

Five bowling sharks from the Beloit postoffice walked all over the local postoffice bunch at the West Side alleys last night and won by a margin of 425 pins. The local team came out for the preliminary to the Detroit-Janesville battle.

The Frankie brothers opened the game with a basket apiece, followed by Euleman. Madison outplayed the local five in this half, the score at the intermission being 12 to 6 in the Preps' favor.

Fast passing featured the second period and although the Stars fought hard they could not overcome the lead. Hager missed a free throw in the last few minutes of play which would have tied the score.

STARS PLAY SATURDAY

The All-Stars will stack up against the Beloit Greyhounds at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night at 8:15. The Gateway City aggregation is out for revenge for the defeat handed out by the Stars two weeks ago. They will come here with a strengthened team.

The Stars are out to give them a good trimming because at Beloit the heavy men roughed up the local bunch, and they are out to give Beloit a little of their own medicine.

Open house will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday and no admission will be charged. Tonight Capt. Grassall is going to give his men a hard workout, and does not intend to lose any more games.

Y. M. C. A. SENIORS MAY FORM BASKETBALL FIVE
A meeting of Y. M. C. A. seniors will be held with Physical Director Triff Monday evening after the regular senior meeting, for the purpose of discussing the organization of a senior basketball team.

Sentiment among the members seems strongly in favor of a senior team.

"There is good material for a well-weighted team," said Mr. Triff today. "The proposed five could take on teams a few pounds lighter than those meeting the Lakota Cardinals."

ALL-STARS LOSE TO
MADISON BY POINT

In a fast and closely contested basketball game, the "Y" All-Stars lost to the Madison "Preps," 18 to 17, at the armory last night. The game was a preliminary to the Detroit-Janesville battle.

The Frankie brothers opened the game with a basket apiece, followed by Euleman. Madison outplayed the local five in this half, the score at the intermission being 12 to 6 in the Preps' favor.

Fast passing featured the second period and although the Stars fought hard they could not overcome the lead. Hager missed a free throw in the last few minutes of play which would have tied the score.

THE HEAVENS IN MARCH

(By Dr. C. S. Brainin of the Columbia University Observatory Staff.)

The March sky is very rich in planets. Our map shows the location of Jupiter and Saturn, Jupiter in the group of the Heavenly Twins (Gemini), to the west of Cancer and Polux, Saturn a little to the west of Regulus, the brightest star of the group of Leo, the Lion. In the eastern part of the field of the Cancer group is shown the position of the planet Uranus, but it is very far away from the earth and its brilliance is diminished to so great an extent as to make it equal only to a seventh-magnitude star and thus impossible for naked eye observation.

But there are not the only planets which the observer can see this month. Venus is an evening star and will shine with its usual brilliancy and clear white light in the western evening sky. Though it sets too early to find a place in the monthly map, it will be in the heavens for a good hour after the sun has set.

Mercury is also an evening star this month and must be looked for during a period of a week preceding and a week following March 19. It should look toward the western horizon, where the sun has just set, and the attempts at observation should be started at the beginning of this two week period.

for Mercury is very illusive. It never gets far away from the sun and is always very close to the horizon at times when observation with the naked eye is possible; and the horizon at sunset is rarely free from mist and clouds, which hinder observation. Therefore, it is best to start at the beginning of the period and to try every evening which seems at all promising. Mercury is not in the same class with Venus or Jupiter in beauty, but it is something to have the intermost of the Sun's planet family.

The same relative difficulty in observation, of course, holds for the astronomer equipped with a telescope, and as a result there is less known about the surface and physical conditions of Mercury than of any of the other planets, with the possible exceptions of Uranus and Neptune, which are so very far away.

If we prolong the curve of the handle of the Great Dipper in an easterly direction, it will lead us to a very bright star of a decided orange tint. This is Arcturus, in the constellation of Bootes, which includes also all the lesser stars lying between the Dipper (Great Bear) and Corona Borealis. The magnitude of Arcturus is given scientifically as 0.2, the same as Capella in Auriga, which, however, differs from Arcturus in color, being a pure white, with little if any yellow. Arcturus is one hundred light-years distant from the earth, and in actual light-giving and heat-giving power it is 500 times as powerful as our sun. The name Arcturus means "watcher of the bear," and Bootes is the Bear Driver, holding in leash the Hunting Dogs, Canes Venatici.

Arcturus is particularly interesting because of the fact that its position in the heavens now does not tally with that given by Ptolemy, the Greek astronomer of Alexandria. This may mean that the star has changed its position since that time to such a degree that the change is visible to the naked eye, for Ptolemy had no such delicate position-measuring instruments as we now possess. Of course we now today that all stars are continuously moving through space and therefore are gradually changing their location in the heavens, though the motion is imperceptible to the naked eye, even after fairly long periods of observation.

Beta Bootes, the second brightest star in this group, is a pretty double star of which the components can be observed even in a small telescope. Between the Hunting Dogs and Denebola in Leo is the constellation of Coma Berenices. Hair of Berenice, which contains a beautiful star cluster

Farmers Please Note

5% Early-Delivery Discount

On Mogul and Titan Tractors

Nearly five thousand of our boys in khaki and blue are coming back to work. We shall, of course, make a place in our organization for every one of them, but we wish to do it without throwing out of employment the men who took their places and have worked faithfully for us ever since. This is not going to be so easy for us as for some others, because the Government designated ours as an essential industry during the war, and we actually increased the efficiency of our organization after our boys left to join the ranks.

We can, however, give steady work both to our present help and to the returning soldiers and sailors, if we can bring about an immediate increase in tractor production. In order to do this we must move forward to the farm some thousands of tractors that are ordered for delivery at various dates up to May 1st, and we shall also have to ship a large number of tractors that farmers intended to order later this season, but could just as well take now. To those farmers who are so situated as to be able to take advantage of it we make the following proposition:

Our Early-Delivery Discount Plan

If you will take delivery of a Mogul or Titan tractor now we will reward your co-operation as follows: To those who will accept delivery of a Mogul or Titan 10 20 on or before March 8th we will give an Early Delivery Discount of 5% from the price of the tractor. (This amounts to $61.25 in the case of the Titan 10-20 and $56.25 on the Mogul 10-20).

After March 8th the following discounts will be given:

For delivery during week of March 10 to March 15 incl.	4%
" " " " " 17 " " 22 " "	3%
" " " " " 24 " " 29 " "	2%
" " " " " 31 " April 5 " "	1%

This discount will go a long ways toward paying the fuel bills of your tractor during this season.

By taking advantage of this Early-Delivery Discount, you will not only be helping yourself, but will enable us more easily to put back to work our army of returning boys without breaking up our present organization.

You will find that you need a few weeks to get acquainted with your new tractor. The man who has his tractor early can become familiar with it, so that when the first day of good plowing weather dawns, he will be able to get in the field without a moment's lost time. That in itself is a very good reason for taking early delivery.

Go to your dealer and tell him that you will accept immediate delivery of your Mogul or Titan 10-20 horsepower tractor, so he can make up his carload shipments without delay.
